MONTREAL WINS HER SECOND GAME

The Lawmakers Are Defeated by Decisive Score of 6 to 0.

STANLEY WAS TOO SPEEDY

Locals Have Not Yet Had Time to Practice Batting Eye.

Montreal administered her second defeat to Richmond yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 0. The honors in the pitching line went to the more seasoned Stanley, who made a splendid showing in the firing pit, allowing only three hits, which were made in as many innings. Although it was a shutout for Richmond, the local team came very near scoring in the fifth inning, when Stanley walked two men, and allowed a hit, all of which combined to put the visitors in a position to score. But Vetter, who had made the single on third, but Vetter died on second, and Reeve, the last man up, went out on a grounder to second. The spectators lent loyal aid in this inning, and cheered with lusty throats in the vain hope that one man might cross the plate and save the locals from a blank. But it was not to be, and everybody was disappointed. Despite the shutout, however, it was a game well played, and Richmond showed up very satisfactorily. It must be remembered that the locals have been in the field a shorter time than the visitors and therefore are not so seasoned. Practice makes perfect and yesterday's playing on the part of the Lawmakers did not show weakness but a lack of practice. Only three errors were made in the whole game by the Richmond players, and Keller, on third, was unfortunate enough to have made all of them. It was his first tryout in a game, however, and when one considers this, the fact that he is a hard position to play, that it was a cold, rainy day, the showing is not quite so bad as would at first thought appear.

Only Three Hits.

Only three hits were allowed the Richmond nine. Heffron made one, and Keller and Vetter made the other two between them. Vetter caught all the Richmond hits, and played a good game. Salve and Cassidy did the work in the box. Salve made a much better showing than in the first game in which he played, and was much less wild. He gives promise of being a good pitcher, and thinks that he has as good a chance as any other of the pitching staff. Cassidy pitched the usual good game, and though six hits were made on his delivery, played a good game. With the little hitting practice the Lawmakers have had, Stanley was too difficult for them. He is fast, has plenty of curves and almost perfect control. Stanley with a little more along league work, seems slated to go into higher fields, and Manager Kitzredge is very proud of him. It will be remembered that Stanley pitched for Norfolk last year, and made a good reputation. He is a hard hitter, and in the three games which have been played here this season, it was Simmons, Brown and Needham, for the visitors, who were the usual good game, and Kitzredge was all that could be desired behind the bat. Simmons got test as the highest number yet made in the three games which have been played here this season. It was Simmons also who made the only two-base hit of the game.

Make First Run.

Montreal made her first run in the third inning. Stanley first man up, struck out. Joyce singled, but was thrown out at second by Reeve when Phelan gained first on a fowler's choice. Phelan stole second. Brown was hit by a pitched ball. Madigan singled, and Phelan crossed the plate. Hill, next man up, went out from Salve to Cowan.

Two more runs were netted in the fourth inning. Phelan, first man up, went out from Reeve to Cowan. Simmons hit out a two-bagger, stole third, and came in on Needham's single. Phelan went out from Keller to Cowan, and Needham went to third from second, crossing the plate on a throw-in from Reeve. Joyce was walked by Cassidy. The last scoring was done in the eighth inning, when the visitors added two more runs. Hill, first man up, singled. Kitzredge went out to O'Neil. Simmons singled, but Hill was caught on third. Simmons advanced to third on Keller's error, when Needham also reached first, and both runners came in on Stanley's safety. Joyce went out to O'Neil, and the side was retired.

The American Locomotive Works League, consisting of four teams known as the Pacific, Steam Shovels, Dredgers and Ten Wheelers teams, played their second game of the season last night, and all the boys showed up well and made a remarkable improvement over last week's score. These teams are scheduled to play at the Lake Alleys every Monday night.

Manager Whitman says that he has never before seen such interest taken in bowling as at the present time. Everybody is playing the game—men and women. It is impossible to accommodate all of them on the alleys in the city.

HEAVY HITTING PITCHER.

PITCHER LONG.

Long last year won a medal for the best batting average. He is looked upon by Manager Shaffer as one of the best twirlers in the league, and he probably is. He is slow and steady, and no matter how the game may go never loses his head. He has never been known to quarrel with an umpire. He simply pitches hard, and he is capable of, and leaves the rest with fate. Long has had but few years' experience in professional ball, but he already gives promise of working himself into higher fields. He is one of those pitchers, rarely found, who can also handle the stick.

Long under the decided disadvantage of severe cold that prevailed. The score was 11 to 5 in Delaware's favor. Features of the game were home runs by Clements and Goss for Agricultural and Mechanical, and by Hoke for Delaware. The crowd was very small, owing to severe weather.

ROCKET, LONG SHOT VIRGINIA HAS WINS THE STAKES WINNING STREAK

Courtland Smith's Entry, Well Ridden, Runs Away With Maiden Steeplechase.

BAD DAY FOR THE GARTHS VISITING PITCHER'S WORK

Horses Heavily Backed by Them in Three Races Go Down to Defeat.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—One of the best things of the current betting meet in the shape of a long-expected winner was out over today by Courtland H. Smith and his trainer, James Welch, when Rocket, at 25 to 1, ran away with the maiden steeplechase. James Welch, trainer of the odds-on favorite, with Billy Garth's Judge White second choice in the betting.

The Garth contingent were morally certain that Judge White stood up he would win. He had schooled brilliantly, but had always shown a tendency to rush at his jumps in a manner that caused him several falls. But when in the schooling he had gone through the field without accident he has worked in very fast time. He was in plight to-day, and Garth's friends "bet the works" on him.

Lysistrata started off in the front and led over the last jump, with Rocket and Judge White trailing. At no stage of the race, however, was the favorite able to get far away from either of the Virginia horses. And when the stretch was reached Rocket came forward and won handsily. Lysistrata saved second place from Judge White in a drive.

Lost With Green Jockey. Another hard loss for the Garth contingent occurred in the second event, the four and a half furlong dash for two-year-olds. In this race Woods Garth scolded Lady Isabel, and as the fly won a good race last week, she was well played to beat August Belmont's Queen's Sovereign, when the fact that the Garths are deprived of the services of the champion jockey, Walter Miller, who was set down for a week on last Saturday for fouling on Billy Dibbs in day for four furlongs, was a disadvantage. The Garths had to take a green jockey, Goldstein. It was this boy's inexperience that cost Lady Isabel the race. She and Queen's Sovereign fought it out down the home stretch, but when the Garth fly appeared to be the winner, the superior horsemanship of J. Johnson, who had the mount on Queen's Sovereign, saved the day for Belmont, bringing his mount under the wire a head in front of Lady Isabel.

In the fifth race Woods Garth sent that good colt, Workman, to the post and as usual he made a show of his field and won handsily. The sixth race resulted in the first victory of the meeting, six furlongs, when Billy Garth's "Father" won. The victor was a veteran turfman who had an entry every day, but it remained for old Warning to break his streak of bad luck, which he did by galloping home in front of the post with him in the last race of the afternoon. Again the Garth brothers went down hard on Town coples, but that colt was a real winner, and finished a bad fourth in a five-horse race.

Summary. First race—Handicap, five furlongs—Okenite (5 to 2) first, Oxford (4 to 5) second, Pation (20 to 1) third. Time, 1:02 2-5. Second race—Four and one-half furlongs—Queen's Sovereign (8 to 5) first, Lady Isabel (7 to 5) second, Giles (18 to 5) third. Time, 1:55 2-5.
